

THE LIST OF EDITORS AND CONTRIBUTORS

Alexander Kostyuk is a Director of Virtus Global Center for Corporate Governance, Ukraine. Alexander Kostyuk had started an academic career having defended the PhD dissertation in corporate finance in 2001. In 2007 one more degree (DBA) was granted to Alex Kostyuk (Switzerland). Since 2002 Alex Kostyuk has edited several books on corporate governance. Editorship has added more value to his academic career through putting editorial responsibilities on him and has enabled to establish a great network of corporate governance experts worldwide which by now includes more than 22000 academics and practitioners. Alex serves as a reviewer for The Quarterly Journal of Economics, The Review of Financial Studies, the Journal of Organizational Behavior and Journal of Money, Credit and Banking. Dr. Alex Kostyuk is currently a Co-Editor-in-Chief of the Corporate Ownership and Control journal and co-editor of Corporate Governance and Sustainability Review.

Dhanya Alex is an Associate Professor in the Finance & Control domain at FISAT Business School, Kochi, Kerala, South India. She has over 15 years of experience in research and academics and has published several articles in reputed journals. Her areas of interests include Corporate Governance, Corporate Valuation and Portfolio Management. Her doctoral thesis was in the area of Corporate Risk Disclosures from the Cochin University of Science & Technology.

Diby François Kassi is a PhD Scholar in Finance at Dongbei University of Finance and Economics (DUFE), Dalian, China PR. He has published several academic papers in prominent journals. His research interests encompass International Finance, Corporate Finance, Applied Economics, Financial Markets and Institutions, Energy Economics, Macroeconomics and Econometrics.

Dilesha Nawadali Rathnayake is a PhD Candidate in School of Finance at Dongbei University of Finance and Economics (DUFE), Dalian, China PR. She is the author of several publications, and her area of interest includes Corporate Finance, Corporate Governance, International Economics, and Exchange Rate Economics.

Douglas Augusto de Paula holds master's degree candidate in Controllershship and Accounting from FEA / USP (emphasis in Financial Accounting), Brazil. He is the coordinator of activities at the Finance and Risk Laboratory of FEA / USP. He is an Assistant Professor at postgraduate course at Saint Paul Business School. His research interests are in the areas of Finance and Accounting, with an emphasis on Risk Management and Corporate Governance.

Eduardo Flores is a Professor of Financial Accounting and Finance in the Accounting and Actuarial Science Department at the University of São Paulo, Brazil. He holds a Ph.D. and Post-PhD in Accounting at the University of São Paulo. He is a member of the Brazilian Accounting Committee representing the National Industry Confederation. Professor Eduardo has also majored in Actuarial Science – University of São Paulo and has been working with accounting opinions.

Félix Ortega-Mohedano (Professor, Ph.D. in Communication and MSc. & Bachelor in Economics at the University of Salamanca, Spain) is currently Associate Professor at the University of Salamanca (Department of Sociology and Communication). He teaches Audience Research Studies and Media Economics. He is currently Director of the Master in Communication: Research and Innovation, and Academic Secretary of the IUCE Research Institute, at the University of Salamanca; visiting lecturer in different Universities at the USA, Belgium, Germany, Chile, Colombia, Ecuador, among others. His research interest and publications are in Media Economics, Audience Research and Consumer Behaviour and Governance in the IT Sector. Dr. Ortega-Mohedano is an author of relevant publications in his speciality in top ranked scientific journals.

Francesco Grimaldi is an Assistant Professor (RTD-B, tenure track) in Accounting and Management at the Economics and Finance Department, University of Bari, Italy. He graduated in Business Economics from the University of Bari in 2000. He is Ph.D. in “Accounting and Management” from the same university in 2009. His research activity is focused on: A) Corporate Governance, Firm Crises and Turnaround; B) Earnings Management and Corporate Governance; C) Sustainability Reporting, Integrated Reporting and Non-financial Disclosure.

Franklin Nakpodia (Ph.D.) is a lecturer at Leeds University Business School, University of Leeds, UK. He teaches on a number of modules within the Accounting and Finance undergraduate and postgraduate programmes. His areas of research include Corporate Governance and Corporate Social Responsibility, focusing on institutional frameworks in Emerging and Developing Economies. His research has been published by globally renowned Journals such as Journal of Business Ethics, Accounting Forum, Business and Society, Journal of Business Research, among others.

Gerard T. Olson is a Professor of Finance at Villanova University and Director of the Villanova School of Business Support for Teaching Excellence Program (VSTEP). Dr. Olson’s research has published in the areas of corporate finance, mergers and acquisitions, initial public offerings, investments, and financial education. Dr. Olson’s expertise has been sought to testify in U.S. federal and state courts as an expert witness in cases involving medical malpractice, personal injury, firm valuation, and statistical analysis. He is also involved in the production of finance videos for eLEARNABUOT Videos. Dr. Olson has won several teaching awards including the Christian R. and Mary F. Lindback Award for Outstanding Teaching; the Gerald A. Dougherty Endowed School of Business Faculty Award in Celebration of Teaching Excellence; the Thomas J. Carmody, Jr. Faculty Award for the Integration of Teaching, Theory, and Practice; and the Bridge Builders Award for Excellence in Teaching Students with Learning Disabilities.

Gonca Atici is an Associate Professor and Department Head at Istanbul University, Turkey. Dr. Atici has a BA in Economics, a MS in Money & Banking and a PhD in Economics from Istanbul University. Her research interests lie in the Corporate Finance, Financial Markets and Institutions and Macroeconomics. She has taught Corporate Finance, Business Finance, Macroeconomics and Microeconomics at both graduate and undergraduate levels. She is a referee to both internal and international journals.

Guner Gursoy completed his Ph.D. at Bilkent University in the area of Finance. He has worked in several universities as head of Finance Department, Dean of Business School, Vice Rector responsible for curriculum development and business relationship. Gursoy’s interest areas are Corporate Finance, Investment, Corporate Governance, Ownership Structure and Strategic Capital Budgeting Decisions.

Ignacio López-Domínguez (Professor, Ph.D. and Bachelor in Economics and Business (Finance) from the Universidad Autónoma de Madrid) is currently Full Professor at the Universidad Complutense de Madrid, Spain (Department of Accounting and Financial Economics). Dr. López-Domínguez teaches Corporate Finance, Financial Markets and Instruments and Financial Risk Management. He is also Vice President of the International Association of Management Studies (ASIEMA); Associate Consultant, International Leadership Center; Research Associate, Institute for Development Economics Research (Instituto para el Fomento de la Investigación Económica, FIEC); Advisory board member of the Newsletter "Business Banking" Editorial Firma de Información; Editorial Board Member of Business "Manager" Magazine; Library Director of Management and Business, Editorial Cie Dossat 2000; regular contributor to various media and regular lecturer on financial topics. Research interests: Financial Markets, Family Businesses and Entrepreneurs. Dr. López-Domínguez is an author of numerous publications in his speciality.

James Lockhart (pmsc (Fort Frontenac), MAgSc (Hons), PhD (Auckland), CMInstD)) is a Senior Lecturer at the Massey Business School, Massey University, Palmerston North, New Zealand. He has extensive business consulting and executive development experience in Australia, New Zealand and across the Pacific. James has published on doctoral education, strategy, governance, and productivity improvement (kaizen/lean). A stream of empirical and conceptual research exploring the 'black box' of governance has been produced for both academic and practitioner audiences. The research techniques that have proven the most effective are the study of corporate failures and direct board room observations. The study of corporate failures invariably result in pin-point accuracy of bad decision making, while board room observations yield all sorts of behavioural characteristics – the good, the bad and the plain ugly. James is a Chartered Member of the Institute of Directors in New Zealand, and holds board appointments with two substantive companies.

Joelson Oliveira Sampaio holds a Ph.D. in Economic Theory and Finance from IPE USP, Brazil. He is an Assistant Professor at São Paulo School of Economics and FECAP [Fundação Escola de Comércio Álvares Penteado], where he teaches courses in financial economics, financial investment, econometrics, and corporate finance. His expertise and research interests are in the areas of Finance and Economics, with an emphasis on Entrepreneurial Finance (Corporate Finance), acting on the following topics: Venture Capital and Private Equity, Capital Markets, and Corporate Governance.

K. Sreekumar is a Professor in the Finance & Control area at FISAT Business School, Kochi, Kerala, South India. He is a Post-graduate in Commerce and a Fellow of the Institute of Cost Accountants of India. He obtained Ph.D from the Cochin University of Science & Technology, on the doctoral dissertation – Management Accounting Practices and Organisational Performance. He has over 26 years of combined experience in industry, business school academics and research and has published articles in peer reviewed national level journals. His areas of interest are Strategic Management Accounting & Control Systems, Corporate Governance, Financial Derivatives and Risk Management.

Karen Hogan is the Brian Duperreault Endowed Chair in Risk Management and Insurance and Professor of Finance at Saint Joseph's University in Philadelphia, PA USA. Dr. Hogan's areas of expertise are Investments, International Finance, Corporate Finance, Enterprise Risk Management, and Financial Education. Dr. Hogan was awarded the University's prestigious Tengelmann Award for life-long research and teaching. Externally, her research has been recognized through various funded research grants, "Best Paper" awards, participation in the Financial Management Association's Doctoral Fellowship Program, presenter at global and domestic academic events, and reviewer for multiple finance related journals. Over her career, Dr. Hogan's has published numerous research articles in academically peer-reviewed journals. She also currently serves on the Editorial Board of Corporate Ownership and Control.

Marco Tutino is an Associate Professor in Business Administration and Head of Department of Business Studies at Roma Tre University, Italy. Dr. Tutino has received his Ph.D degree in Business Administration from Pisa University (Italy) in 2004. Marco serves as an Editor for Corporate Ownership and Control Journal, International Journal of Financial Innovation in Banking, Global Review of Accounting and Finance, Journal of Management and Marketing, World Journal of Accounting, Finance and Engineering (WJAFE). His research areas include Financial Reporting, IFRS and Disclosures, Corporate Governance, Corporate Strategy and Financial Markets, Performance Analysis and Measurement.

Meltem Gürünlü is an Assistant Professor of Finance at the Department of International Trade & Finance in Istanbul Arel University, Turkey. She has received her PhD degree in Accounting & Finance from Marmara University in Istanbul in 2008. Between 2011 and 2012, she worked at the Uni-East Project funded by Unicredit as a Post-Doc researcher at the University of Torino. Her research interests include Corporate Finance, Behavioral Finance, Corporate Governance and Strategic Decision Taking (such as IPOs and FDI), Capital Structure Decisions, Emerging Markets Finance, Ownership Structure and Entrepreneurial Finance.

Ning Ding currently is a Professor, Doctoral advisor in School of Finance at Dongbei University of Finance and Economics (DUFE), Dalian, China PR. She has published over 30 papers in domestic and international periodical and conference and co-authored 4 books. Her research areas include Banking Management, International Finance and Financial Markets and Institutions.

Pierre Axel Louembe is a PhD Candidate in School of Accountancy at Dongbei University of Finance and Economics (DUFE), Dalian, China PR. He has published several publications and his area of interest includes Financial Markets and Institutions, Banking Management and International Economics.

Stefan Prigge is a Professor in the Department Finance and Accounting at HSBA Hamburg School of Business Administration. His main research interests are Corporate Governance and Finance with a particular focus on Family Firms (as a member of the Institute for Mittelstand and Family Firms, Hamburg) and professional football (as a member of the German association called Sports Governance).

Stella Lippolis is an Assistant Professor in Accounting and Management at the Ionian Department of Law, Economics and Environment, University of Bari "Aldo Moro". She is Ph.D. in Accounting and Management and she achieved an MA in Accounting and Financial Reporting at the University of Pavia. Her research activity is focused on: A) Accounting Change; B) Corporate Governance, Firm Crises and Turnaround; C) Earnings Management and Corporate Governance; D) Accounting History.